COUGAR PRIDE!

Principal's Message

by Mr. Haggard

The end of a quarter is a great time to reflect on goals achieved and those that still seem just out of reach. I hope each of us as parents will take a few minutes to listen to our children reflect about their goals and dreams. I know it can be hard for me to just listen and not try to tell my children what their goals and dreams should be! Of course, our children need our guidance (especially if they are making poor choices!), but by taking the time to listen to what is important to them, we can learn how best to come along-side them and support them to achieve in ways we never could have imagined!
